Claim Status

Claims 1-3, 5-19, 21-35 and 37-60 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 17, 33 and 46-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Son (US 2003/0046281) in view of Fenton et al (US 2002/0194195), hereinafter Fenton.

Regarding claim 1, Son discloses:

(A) executing a search query on the data collection to produce at least one search result, the search query specifying at least one criterion, each at least one search result identifying a subset of the resources which satisfy the at least one criterion, and saving the search query
[paragraph 101, user references the search history of a registrant]

Son discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above but does not disclose (B) after executing the search query, providing an input mechanism by means of which a user may select at least one resource from the at least one search result, for preserving the selected at least one resource wherein preserving the selected at least one resource comprises maintaining content of the selected at least one resource in the state at which the content existed at the time of preservation. Fenton discloses after executing the search query, providing an input mechanism by means of which a user may select at least one resource from the at least one search result, for preserving the selected at least one resource wherein preserving the selected at least one resource comprises maintaining content of the selected at least one resource in the state at which the content existed at the time of preservation [paragraphs 84-91, Fig 1, Fig 9]. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Son to include above limitation as taught by Fenton for the purpose of creating a personalized content by the user [paragraph 81]

The combination of Son and Fenton discloses (C) after the user's selection of the at least one resource from the at least one search result, designating a system location in which the content of the selected at least one resource is to be preserved [paragraph 89, user's stash]

(D) executing, in response to the user's selection, a command to preserve the content of the selected at least one resource in the system location [paragraph 89, Fig 1]

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-16, 18-32, 34, 35 and 37-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of Son and Fenton and further in view of US Pat No 5,222,234 (Wang), hereafter Wang.

Claims 2, 18 and 34:

The combination of Son and Fenton discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above but does not disclose wherein the system location comprises a folder. Wang discloses wherein the system location comprises a folder [col 3, line 64 through col 4, line 5]. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the above combination of references to include wherein the system location comprises a folder as taught by Wang for the purpose of saving similar content in an easily accessible memory location.

Claims 3, 19 and 35:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the folder is created based on input provided by the user [Wang, col 3, line 64 through col 4, line 5]

Claims 5, 21 and 37:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (A) further comprises each of the at least one search results representing a resource by providing an identifier which facilitates access to the resource [Wang, col 5, lines 1-10].

Claims 6, 22 and 38:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) further comprises exporting the preserved resource [Wang, retrieve documents, col 2, lines 50-55]

Claims 7, 23 and 39:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) further comprises exporting the preserved resource to at least one of a CD-ROM or a paper copy [Wang, col 6, lines 30-40].

Claims 8, 24 and 40:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) is performed in at least one of a manual and semi-automated manner [Wang, col 3, lines 48-58]

Claims 9, 25 and 41-43:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) further comprises copying the selected at least one resource from the system location to a second system location [Wang, col 3, lines 48-58]

Claims 10 and 26:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) is performed in response to a command provided by a user [Wang, col 3, lines 48-58]

Claims 11 and 27:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) is performed by creating a relationship in at least one persistent data store between each of the selected at least one resources and the second system location [Wang, document relation object 42, Fig 2]

Claims 12 and 28:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) further comprises moving the selected at least one resource from the system location to a second system location [Wang, col 3, lines 47-57]

Claims 13 and 29:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) is performed in response to receiving a command provided by a user [Wang, col 3, lines 47-57]

Claims 14 and 30:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the act (C) is performed by creating a relationship in at least one persistent data store between each of the selected at least one resources and the second system location [Wang, col 3, lines 47-57].

Claims 15, 31 and 44:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the user is a human operator [Wang, col 3, lines 47-57]

Claims 16, 32 and 45:

The combination of Son, Fenton and Wang discloses the elements of the claimed invention as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the at least one criterion is provided by the user [Wang, col 3, lines 47-57].

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/24/2008 have been carefully considered but they are moot based on new grounds of rejection based on applicant's most recent claim amendments.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
